

English Literature	M1	M2	M3	M4	M5	M6
Topic Title	Elements of Crime Writing: The Rime of the Ancient Mariner Aspects of Tragedy: Revision	Elements of Crime Writing: When Will There Be Good News? Aspects of Tragedy: Revision	Elements of Crime Writing: The Murder of Roger Ackroyd Aspects of Tragedy: Revision	Elements of Crime Writing: The Murder of Roger Ackroyd/Unseen Crime Aspects of Tragedy: Revision	Elements of Crime Writing: Unseen Crime/Revision Aspects of Tragedy: Revision
Brief summary of content studied	Introduction to the key elements of crime writing relevant to the study of literature texts Learning the key characters, events, themes and settings for the set texts Learning to respond effectively to exam questions by constructing a strong argument, discussing authorial methods and intent, appreciating relevant contexts, criticisms and connections between texts Revising all elements linked to the aspects of tragedy section of the course	Continuing to learn the key characters, events, themes and settings for the set texts Building on the ability to respond effectively to exam questions by constructing a strong argument, discussing authorial methods and intent, appreciating relevant contexts, criticisms and connections between texts Revising all elements linked to the aspects of tragedy section of the course	Continuing to learn the key characters, events, themes and settings for the set texts Building on the ability to respond effectively to exam questions by constructing a strong argument, discussing authorial methods and intent, appreciating relevant contexts, criticisms and connections between texts Revising all elements linked to the aspects of tragedy section of the course	Continuing to learn the key characters, events, themes and settings for the set texts Building on the ability to respond effectively to exam questions by constructing a strong argument, discussing authorial methods and intent, appreciating relevant contexts, criticisms and connections between texts Revising all elements linked to the aspects of tragedy section of the course	Exam practice
Link to Knowledge Organiser
Other resources and readings						